A Negro Lunatic suffocated-Out

(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch. BOWLING GREEN, VA., Dec. 15, 1888 About daydawn this morning Mr. R. L. Smith was going down Main street and ob-served a quantity of smoke issuing from the jail, which is some distance from the street in the court-house yard. He went immediately to the residence of Mr. R. T. Chewning, jailer, and told him. As quickly as possible the two got assistance and repaired to the jati to find the smoke so dense that nothing in-side could be seen at all. With much diffi-only they made their way to the room in which the only prisoner was confined, who was a colored lunatic about sixteen years of age named Joseph Jones, from the neighborhood of Penola, in this county. They found him on the door quite dead, suffocated by the smoke. He must have been dead but a short time from the appearance of the body. Persons had heard him screaming just before the body as he was always noisy nothing was day, but as he was always noisy nothing was thought of it. The body was taken to the court-house and efforts made to locate the fire. The floor was flooded with water without diminishing the smoke. About 9 o'clock the jalier, by putting wet cloths over his face, succeeded n finding a hole under the stove, and the moke pouring up through it. The floor composed of several thicknesses of stout plank, and is still burning undernest (11:30 A. M.), while it is impossible to reach the fire, as the planks are fastened down with large spikes, and cannot be ripped up. It is thought the fire can be controlled so as not to reach the roof of the building. The heavy rain failing will aid the efforts made to that end.

rain failing will all seed end.

There was an alarm of fire on Saturday, and but for the prompt assistance of the citizens an out-house on Mr. A. B. Chandler's let, occupied by a colored boy in his service, would have been consumed, with the probability of his other out-buildings sharing the same fate. The fire was put out, after burning the bed, ciothes, &c., of the boy, Our citizens turn out an assee on the alarm of fire and give prompt and energetic assistance.

Cotton Market.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.) New York, December 17.—A record of to-day's cotton market has been of further liquidation, and though prices do not show much decline the feeling continues soft. A special feature of the market to-day has been the large liquidation of January, which at $0.50 were heavily sold by a commission-bouse carrying them for outside account, and they passed juio the hands of the strongest firms.

Mr. Reuben Ragland had an insurance of $8,700 on his property at the Rosiyn farm in Chesterfield county, which was destroyed by fire on Saturday night, divided as follows:

On crop of peanuts (5,000 bushels), $3,000 in the Scottish Union and National; on shed, stable, dwelling, and implements, $2,200 in the Queen of New York; on corn and general produce, $1,500 in the Portsmouth Fire Insurance Company; on the barn and attached buildings, $1,000 in the Fire Association of Philadelphia, and $1,000 in the Korthern of England.

He had tust housed his crops of corn, peanuts, fodder, &c. How the fire originated is still a mystery, but is believed to have been the work of an incendiary. The saddest feature about the fire was the burning to death of so many animals—seven mules, two horses, and four cows—on which there was no insurance. His loss in this respect will be fully $2,000. There was a rumor here to-day that another man had been killed on the Richmond and Petersburg railroad this side of Swift creek, and a number of people went out to seek the scene of the accident. They could not find it, however, and the railroad authorities were in ignorance of any such occurrence.

In the Mayor's Court this morning Charles Johnson, a well-known colored churchman and sometimes preacher, was arraigned on the charge of larceny. The particular charge against him was that of stealing a quantity of hay from the owner of a Dinwiddle farm. After hearing all the evidence in the case the Mayor adjudged the accused guilty, and lunposed a sentence of three menths' imprisonment in jult. From this decision Johnson took an appeal to the Hustings Court, and gave bond for his appearance to stand trial at the January term of the court.

It is reported that the proprietor of the Petersburg butter-dish factory will soon remove that establishment to Suffok, where, it is said, the conveniences and the facilities for getting supplies of the wood needed for this peculiar industry are much greater than they are nere. Butter-dish making has been an important industry bere for some years and gives employment to a large number of hands, and its removal will be a matter of regret.

LOT fronting 33 feet on the north side of Porter street, commencing 66 feet west of Tenth street and running tack 150 feet to a 15-foot alley. The house contains about four rooms and halls. It is unnecessary to spin out a long list of adjectives
in praise of this location, as every one at all famillar with Manchester knows that Porter-street lots are worth twice as much as other lots in the city, except the business lots on Hull street, and the lot that I am selling is located on the best part of Porter street.
